Uncle Sam Says

"Where on earth did my money go?" How often have you voiced this question, half in wonder, half in dismay! It's so easy to fritter away ready cash. A dollar here—and a dollar there—and in the end nothing to show for it. And yet saving for the things you want—a new home, travel or future security—is easy and effective simply by allotting a portion of your income either through the payroll savings or by arrangement with your bank for the systematic purchase of United States Savings Bonds. Dollars go, your bonds grow. When you buy Savings Bonds regularly, you are building the nest-egg for whatever you've set your heart on.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramping pain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.

2 For functional cramps, it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes. Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

Richwood

Rickwood, Feb. 11.- The story of the week is again of Carter Martin and his mules. Friday the mules decided to go AWOL. After scouring the countryside in his car for some time, Carter located them in the vicinity of Walter Lee's place. The fun (?) began when he wanted to send them home. The mules had their own ideas about where they wanted to go. Being inexperienced in the use of a lasso from the seat of a car and trying to drive at the same time, Carter wasn't successful on this score. On foot, the mules were always just out of reach; they did not recognize corn or hay offered to them as bait. At last report they were contentedly muching hay in the corral.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

HERB: "I'll be glad to come to the meeting. I always figured alcoholism was something for the doctors to treat and not the police."

OLD JUDGE. "More and more people are beginning to realize that, Herb. Fortunately only about 3½ per cent of the people who use alcoholic beverages are problem drinkers, but they deserve the same professional treatment as any other sick person."

HERB: "I had the idea there were more than that."

OLD JUDGE "No. That's the generally accepted figure. Scientists at one of the big universities have been studying alcoholism for some time, and they estimate that 95 per cent of the people who use alcoholic beverages are temperate and self-disciplined drinkers. Among the 5 per cent who occasionally are not, about one-fourth are what they call compulsive or problem drinkers."

HERB: "Are they making any progress, Judge, in finding out what really ails them?

OLD JUDGE "Our speaker tomorrow night will tell you all about it. Herb. Most of these people are suffering from some deep-seated physical or mental condition that makes them incapable of facing life without some crutch to lean on."

HERB: "You can count on me being there. That's exactly what I've thought all along but I want to hear the real scientific facts."

JESUS AT THE FEAST OF TABERNACLES

LESSON TEXT—John 8:12-16, 31-36; 9:1-5.

MEMORY SELECTION—I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life.—John 8:12.

Light of the World is ... Who does not remember what delight we as children felt in "Come to the light, 'tis shining over thee . . . The Light of the World is Jesus." How precious was the faith that thus flooded our souls!

But the passing of the years has dimmed the beauty and glory of that light in our hearts and lives? We need it renewed? God is willing and ready. Jesus is the light, just as the sunlight sheds its rays on an awakening world at dawn so Christ sheds abroad the love of God in the hearts of believing men. The writer of these words pens these words with the thought that as this portion of God's blessed Word is studied and taught, the light may break forth on the soul lost in the bewilderment of this dark world.

Our study centers around three great words fraught with beauty and rich in meaning.

I. Light (John 8:12-16).

Our text says, "Then spake Jesus again." When? Just after he had silenced the hypocritical accusers of the woman taken in sin, and had given the word of peace to her troubled soul. She was to "go and sin no more" because she had met Him who is the light of the world. She was that follow him "shall not walk in darkness"; they are the children of light, they have the very light of life.

It is sad it is that with the light of the world shining in all its brightness men loved their own darkness. The Pharisees, instead of receiving the Light, had to argue, and to argue on a low, fleshly plane. They accused Jesus of being a liar. Think of that!

It is that men may reject the love of God and go on into a darkness made deeper because they have seen the light.

Now we look at our second beautiful word. How sweet it sounds as we repeat it—

II. Freedom (vv. 31-36).

Free! Four letters, but what a world of meaning! Chains have fallen off, prison doors are open, and he who was bound is free. But we are concerned with an even more important liberty, the freedom of the soul. Many there are [illegible] Jesus [illegible] but not its power.

How shall they be freed? Note two things in these verses. (1) A condition—"If ye continue in my word." This means not only a profession but an appropriation of his truth. (2) A promise—"Ye shall know the truth." The philosophies of men profess to be a seeking after truth, but how few there are who come to the one place where it can be found—in Jesus Christ. (3) A result—"The truth shall make you free." Truth always sets free.

Men are enslaved because, as in the case [illegible] they have not had opportunity to learn the truth (God have failed to send it), or because they have rejected it. Only freedom and light can lead only to life.

III. Vision (John 9:1-5).

This is one of the most instructive miracles in Scripture. A man born blind is seen by Jesus. His disciples lose his interest and begin to theorize on a theological question. They had learned so little of the compassionate spirit of Jesus that they saw in this blighted life only an illustration of a theological problem. But God help us that we may never be so blind.

Jesus goes at once to his blessed task. He was in the world to do the works of God. He and the Father always work. Let us follow his blessed example. The King's business requires haste. Let us work while it is day, the night cometh when no man can work."

Such a loving and gracious act, it stirs in the heart of the man a faith which causes him to go, wash, and, glory to God, he sees.

Such a personal experience of the saving power of the Son of God leaves no doubt in the man's mind about the One who caused him to see. "He is a prophet." All of a man's doubts concerning the deity of Jesus must disappear when he becomes the Saviour.

Do not fail to read the remainder of the chapter and note how this man's faith was victorious in the face of trials, persecution, and even excommunication for outside the synagogue to the Saviour."

IN OBSERVANCE OF

The Thomas A. Edison Centennial

THIS MONTH we celebrate the 100th Anniversary of the birth of the man of whom it has been truly said "His genius endowed all mankind."

For although he is most readily remembered for his invention of the incandescent lamp, no field of endeavor seemed foreign to his talents.

He was the producer of inventions for which the greatest number of patents were ever issued to an individual by the U. S. Patent Office — 360 of which are directly related to the generation and distribution of electric light and power. His inventions spawned industries which now employ more than four million men and women. And were we to include industries not directly descended from Edison's inventions, but which would have been impossible without his contributions, the figures would be staggering beyond belief.

His achievements, more so than those of any one man, helped lift America to the pinnacle of greatness. The world is his beneficiary.
